SYNOPSIS

The creative hub of Danish fashion designer Naja Munthe, this luxurious townhouse nestled in the heart of Copenhagen, shows her passion for modern interiors with a laid-back, cosy feel. A key figure in the city's fashion scene, Naja's label, Munthe plus Simonsen, is a favourite of supermodel Helena Christensen. Recognised for their relaxed glamour and edgy clothes, Naja's home follows suit. Decorated with the same style values that she brings to her clothes, Naja wanted a home that felt authentic and wasn't too new. "I wanted somewhere that had a soul to it already," she explains.
