

WJG NY (Feature: 4336)

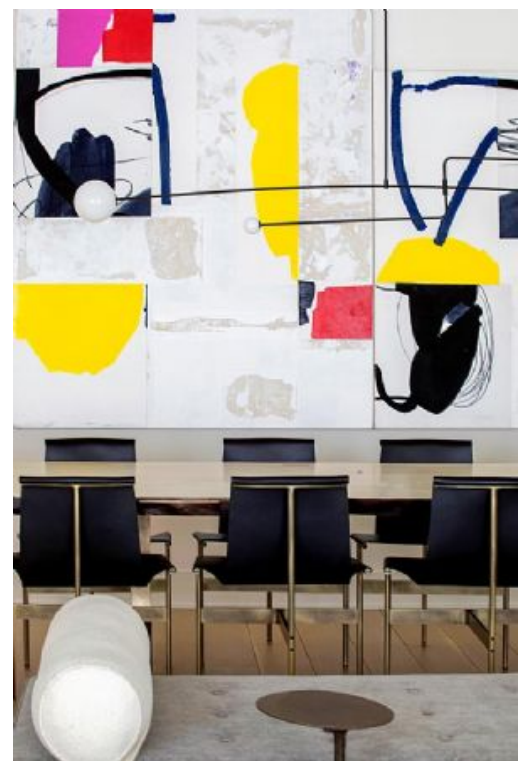

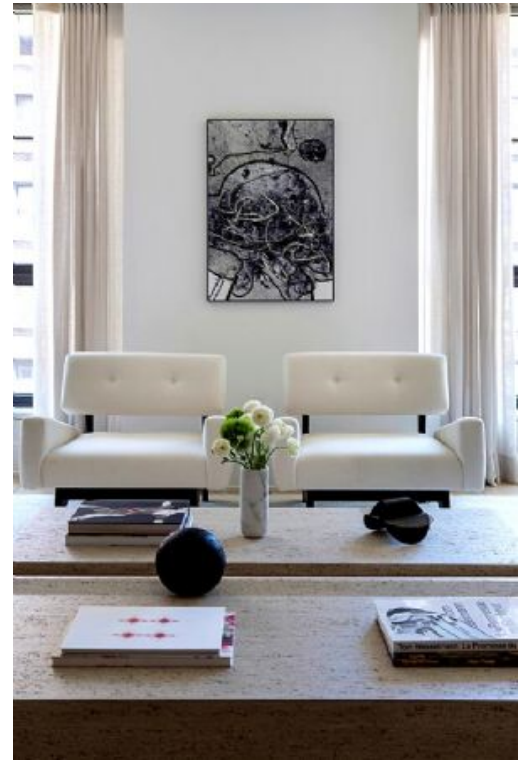

Downtown Manhattan travels uptown in this converted Upper East Side residence.

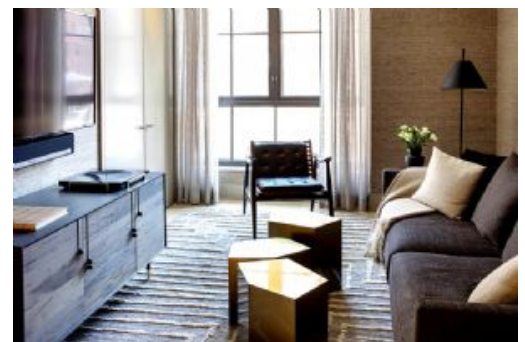

Location: New York, USA

Photographer: Costas Picadas

URL: <http://www.gapphotos.com/featuredetails.asp?featureref=4336>

SYNOPSIS

The building on 86th street was newly designed by Danish architect Thomas Juul-Hansen and has a loft-like feeling with iron casement windows, high ceilings and pale oak floors. This begged for a young sophisticated interior designed by Jessica Gersten. She created the perfect backdrop with an airy, open, light décor in perfect contrast to the dark iron windows.