

HOUSE WYNGAARD (Feature: 2608)

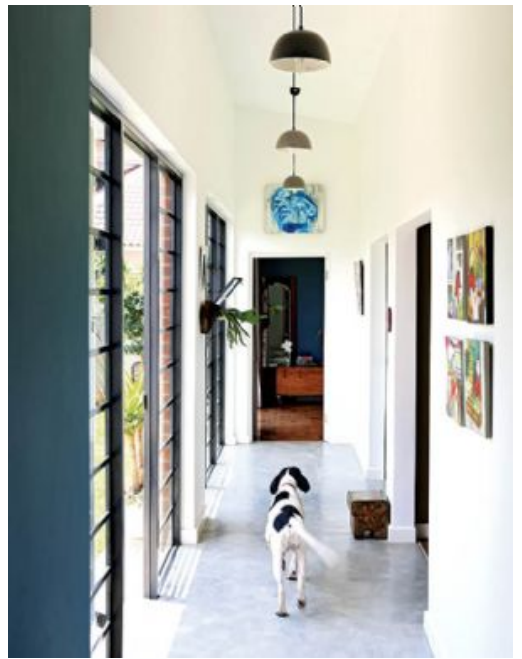

A family house in Pretoria shows that easy living needs smart thinking: Position the kitchen well and your home is made.

Location: South Africa

Photographer: House and Leisure

URL: <http://www.gapphotos.com/featuredetails.asp?featureref=2608>

SYNOPSIS

Hanri and Jacques van Wyngaard are both metallurgical engineers. It's a job that's taken them to remote locations on mines around the world where they've lived for years at a time in countries including Namibia and, more recently, China. The places may have been interesting and inspiring, but the accommodation less so: mine houses are not renowned for their style and comfort.